Executive Summary

Senate Bill 10 as signed into law on May 18, 2007, created the Georgia Special Needs Scholarship (GSNS) Program which allows parents of eligible special needs students to transfer their children to another public school, public school system, state school, or approved participating private school.

This report represents the results for the 2012 - 2013 school year as required by O.C.G.A. § 20-2-2118, which stipulates that the Governor's Office of Student Achievement, in conjunction with the Georgia Department of Education (GaDOE) shall provide the General Assembly not later than December 1 of each year with a report regarding the scholarship program for the previous fiscal year. This was the sixth school year the GSNS Program was administered.

2012 - 2013 Program Highlights

- Number of participating private schools increased from 202 to 234 private schools.
  - ➔ 15 was the average number of students enrolled in each private school.
  - ➔ 0 - 145 was the range of students enrolled in each private school.
  - ➔ 25 participating private schools did not enroll any students under the GSNS Program.
- Total student participation in the program increased from the previous school year by 296 with 3,229 students enrolled in private schools.
- 2,265 students continued their participation in the program from the previous school year.
- Of the 3,229 students enrolled:

2012 - 2013 Georgia Special Needs Scholarship Program Students' Pre/Post Assessment and Information:

Private schools are required to provide pre- and post-assessment information on GSNS students enrolled at their schools for the subjects of reading and math. Progress information is not reported on all students due to students leaving the GSNS Program before a private school is able to administer pre-and post-assessments to a GSNS student.

The legislation governing the GSNS Program does not give the GaDOE the authority to mandate specific assessments to be used by private schools. Private schools select their own assessments and do not use state-mandated standardized assessments to measure student progress. Progress information is self-reported by private schools to the GaDOE.

At the end of the 2012 – 2013 school year, private schools with scholarship students, submitted assessment information for 2,868 students in the subject of math and 2,880 students in the subject of reading.

Private schools self-reported the following:

Math

- 25% of their students showed progress of less than one year.
- 13% of their students showed no progress.
- 38% of their students showed progress of one school year.
- 24% of their students showed progress of more than one school year.

Reading

- 25% of their students showed progress of less than one year.
- 12% of their students showed no progress.
- 37% of their students showed progress of one school year.
- 26% of their students showed progress of more than one school year.
